

The OptumRx portal — simplifying the user experience

May 2018

Display of the “Best Price First”

To enhance the user experience, the Drug Pricing Tool will display the best price for a 30-day supply first. This allows consumers to easily compare pricing and select the pharmacy with the best price.

Home delivery text notifications have changed

To enrich and provide a more cohesive user experience, the OptumRx portal will be moving to a global solution for text notifications. All home delivery notifications will now be consolidated into a single enrollment. By electing to receive home delivery notifications, members will receive texts when they have medications eligible for refill or have updates to their orders.

Medication reminder texts

Members will still be able to sign up for general text reminders and medication specific reminders.
